A THOUSAND CRANES
March 12 at 7 p.m. | March 13 at 7 p.m.
March 14 at 2 p.m. & 7 p.m.
Ridgway Black Box Theater

This spring, the Harlequin Club will present the true and poignant story of Sadako Sasaki, who developed radiation sickness from the Hiroshima bomb. With boundless optimism, she takes an old story to heart: “If a sick person folds a thousand paper cranes, the gods will grant her wish and make her well again.” After her death, Sadako’s friends begin to dream of building a monument to her and all the children who were killed by the atom bomb. Each year on the anniversary of the bombing, thousands of people bring paper cranes to adorn a statue of Sadako holding a golden crane in outstretched arms. Her wish is engraved on the base of the statue: “This is our cry, this is our prayer, peace in the world.”
